

ONE OF THE GREAT FOR 300 MEMBERS

"Jazz" Band, Airplanes,
Chicken Dinner and Friendly Fish Help.

Fatigued, dust covered, but happy, more than 300 members of the City Club returned to Washington last night from their first annual outing on the picturesque 800-acre farm of Foster M. Reeder, West Hattin, Md., on the Potomac river, after literally "burning" the roads of southern Maryland for fifty-six miles in a fleet of 100 automobiles. Their initial outing, unique in some forms, was unanimously voted a "great success."

From the arrival of the first party of excursionists to the departure of the last, near dusk, was not a dull moment. In fact, the affair was described as a "circus without a ring." There was a "jazz" band playing in the way of food and amusement for the proverbial "tired business man," and a thirty-piece jazz band was so "jazz" it attracted large schools of fish. At least, that is what several members of the club reported who devoted the afternoon to angling.

Famous Maryland Dinner.
Soon after the arrival of the excursionists at the dining hall, a dinner was served on the banks of the Potomac river. The menu included the famous Maryland fried chicken, corn on the cob, steamed oysters, potato salad, crabs, fish and watermelon. There were all kinds of drinks. The long jaunt over the Maryland roads worked up a keen appetite for the excursionists, as evidenced by rapid disappearance of the enormous supply of food and drinks. During the afternoon the "boys" frequently speaking of course, amused themselves by trapeezing, hydro-aeroplaning, fishing, boating, swimming and other games. Before they bade good-bye to Mr. Reeder and his farm they were served with ice cream and cakes.

Danahower Is Injured.
There was, however, one accident which threatened to mar the outing. While en route to the Reeder farm, an automobile carrying E. B. Danahower, manager of the club, in attempting to avoid a collision with another machine swerved to the side of the road, throwing him out. Mr. Danahower was bruised about the face and arms, but did not prevent him from enjoying the outing. Excursionists who witnessed the accident claimed that the club manager narrowly escaped death, as both machines were going at high speed.

Two Army aeroplanes from Bolling field, piloted by Capt. W. E. Fitzgerald and M. F. Scanlon, landed on the Reeder farm shortly after noon, entertaining the excursionists with "stunts" before landing. The machines returned to Washington late in the afternoon.

"Honey Boy" Evans "There."
Dr. Mark C. Bullis, a life member of the club, arrived at the outing in a hydro-aeroplane, piloted by H. C. Downey of the capital flyers. Frank Taylor Mitchell returned in the flying boat, having been on the Reeder farm about 1:30 o'clock.

Tenants in Office Buildings Ask Rent Board for Advice.
Confronted with notices that beginning August 1, rents for office space will be jumped by amounts ranging from 50 to more than 200 per cent, tenants of two of Washington's largest office buildings have conferred with members of the District rent commission, asking for advice in what they term "an unbearable" situation.

As a result of the conference tenants are considering the plan of forming a union to fight the rent increase. The union would be organized for the purpose of securing a reduction in the rent. The union would be organized for the purpose of securing a reduction in the rent. The union would be organized for the purpose of securing a reduction in the rent.

Increases proposed by the management of the Southern building already have been cited to the District Supreme Court by Attorney J. V. Morgan, tenant, in connection with a suit filed by the receivers for the First National Fire Insurance Company against the Southern Realty Corporation, requesting the appointment of receivers for the building.

Preceding this action, about sixty tenants of the building banded together to draw up a petition of protest to the owners and obtained signatures to it by persons having offices in the building.

Members of this group have announced their intention of filing a petition with the District Court for an injunction against the proposed increases. Representatives of these tenant interests already have conferred with members of the commission.

On behalf of the owners of the buildings it is explained that wages of elevator conductors, charwomen, janitors, engineers and other attendants have been raised greatly during the past year. It is contended that on the present rentals being received the buildings will not make a fair return on the investment.

POSITIONS TO BE FILLED.
Examinations for several positions in the classified civil service are announced by the Civil Service Commission. Examinations will be held for the following positions: Associate in clinical psychology and psychotherapy, girls' athletic director for the Indian service, automobile mechanic's helper, examiner of claims, assistant teacher, X-ray technician, engineer, assistant engineer and junior engineer, superintendent of field seed distribution, assistant in poultry and egg handling, model maker and chief gas mask canister tester. Further information concerning the examinations may be obtained from the civil service commission, 1724 F street.
